I RISE TO REMARK

BY JOHN PHILLIPS

The interest of the people has been aroused by the "revelations" of communistic activities in the government. It is encouraging to those of us who have talked and worked for years. I rise to remark that I hope the people will now put together the pieces of this jig-saw puzzle of subversive activities, which have been abundantly clear for years, but which an apathetic and trustful American nation simply refused to believe.

When a suspected communist would be before a State or a Federal committee, he might be asked, for example, as men have recently been asked in Washington, if he knew that certain of his associates, perhaps in the leadership of some organization, were communists. If the witness were not a commie, the answer would probably be no. If he followed the communist line, the answer would be, inevitably, that he never asked his associates about their "religious or political beliefs." This slow poison has been fed the American people for a generation.

The Communist Party is not a political party. Communism, in practice, is not a political belief, nor a political movement. It is a subversive, a revolutionary movement. In fact, the Communist Party of the United States is not the activating organization.

The movement in the United States has been managed by an extension of the Russian secret police, just as the same police, the NKVD, serve as the power in Russia, and by persuasion of the nations we now call the satellite nations.

How does it work? In the balmy days of the new deal, the welcome mat wa on the Washington doorstep for every so-called "liberal" who needed a job. This was duck-soup for the NKVD. The work was directed from Moscow. The first circle in the government was set up in the Department of Agriculture. It's personnel came from the previously influenced thinking of certain schools and colleges. When new cells were created, more men came from sources of like influence. The cells divided and other cells were created.

At first the movement wanted the spots for lawyers and economists. They wrote the directives and the regulations and the laws and the speaches. They got the comrades into other choice spots. Then they moved into publicity and public relations. Some smart NKVD leader soon saw the possibilities for personnel directors in the agencies. They wanted the unseen, key position, of which the public seldom thinks, but which control the public thought. There were all kinds in the groups. Innocent dreamers; coldly cynical followers of the movement; opportunists, and just ordinary guys who saw that the path of promotion was to follow the line.

We are seeing the fruit of the tree which was planted in front of our eyes, nourished on our substance, watered by our apathy, and yet which we steadily refused to admit was there.

McArdle Goes To Los Angeles In New Job

Having sold his business interests in Cypress, A. R. McArdle, who lives in Compton and formerly operated the Hancock service station in the west part of town, expects to join the Western Bureau of Investigation staff in Los Angeles as a special investigator. His work with the firm will follow its policy of working with Los Angeles police in the prevention of forgery and similar crimes, an effort which is backed by the California business men's association, and the American business men's association, in addition to the police force.

The business men in Cypress will be sorry to have "Mac" leave, since he has made many friends here since he first began to operate the station in the early spring. It is hoped his health will improve in a less confining position.

Realtors Told County Will Double Population

Orange County will double its present population within 12 years if presents forecasts are accurate Dr. Walter Bigham, chairman of the Orange county planning commission, told the Fullerton District Board of Realtors at its meeting at the Town House this morning.

The forecasts are based on the same trends by which the present population was predicted 20 years ago, D. Bigham said. Today's population compares with the predictions made at that time, he said.

The speaker also outlined for the board the problems of the planning commission which is charged with the responsibility of the county's growth in a constructive direction.

October's Calendar Features Hallowe'en

October calendar offers a number of unique festivals and occasions on the "where-to-go" list, as announced by the All Year club, community organization for advertising southern California's half-a-billion-dollar-a-year tourist industry.

Ed Winfields New Owners Trailer Park

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Winfield, formerly of Long Beach, have purchased the trailer court on Lincoln avenue formerly owned by J. M. Harvey. They have in mind several improvements on the property and intend to make it one of the prettiest trailer parks in this part of the country.

Since selling his interests here, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Harvey have moved to Anaheim. Although currently enjoying a ten-day vacation to San Fancisco, Redding and other points of interest in northern California, Harvey will continue as general manager of Reinhardt's appliance storein Anaheim, which he opened recently after remodeling and enlarging the store.

County - Wide Observance Of "Veterans Day"

Dedicated to Orange County veterans of the greatest wars in history, sponsored by three great nation-wide veterans' organizations, a county-wide observance of "Veterans Day" will be held in Santa Ana, November 11.

Theme of the observance will be "Peace Through Preparedness", Groom said. Sponsoring organizations include the Disabled American Veterans the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the American Legion.

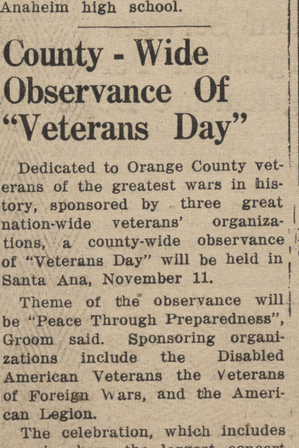

The celebration, which includes an air show, the largest concert by massed service bands ever played in Orange County, and other spectacular attractions, will be commemorated in an attractive 11-page Memorial Program.

Details of the spectacular events of the day will be revealed as arrangements are completed, its sponsors declared. Watch this paper for further information.

Dewey To Speak At Bowl On Friday

Orange County will join with other southland counties Friday in playing host to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the Republican nominee for President, who makes his initial swing into the west on his nation-wide tour.

The New York chief executive speaks at Hollywood Bowl on a program arranged by the county and state central committee. The Bowl program opens at 8 p.m.—although gates of the big amphitheater open at 5 p.m.—and Gov. Dewey's talk will be radio-cast from 8:30 until 9 p.m.

To take an Orange County contingent to the Bowl, three chartered busses are to leave the 700 block of N. Main St., Santa Ana, at 4:30 p.m. Friday. Those aboard will be seated in a reserved section of the Bowl.

Appearance of Gov. Dewey opens the active campaigning season, although preliminary organization has been under way for weeks, following opening of the county's Dewey-Warren headquarters at 516 S. Main Street, Santa Ana.

It has not been learned whether Gov. Warren will make a speech in Orange County, but it is expected that he might in later phases of the campaign.

IT'S BEING SAID -- IN CYPRESS

NUGGETS FROM White Gold Day

It's always calm after the storm. Ker-bang went the big White Gold Days celebration and the storm was good. Men scurried around like mad getting everything ready for the big blow. And when the blow got under way the situation was really something to take special notice of. Around the corner the parade marched with splendor and the judges were wondering just which one was the best. On to the school grounds the mass moved and the thunder roared, as the crowd seathed to maneuver for the best position for the horse show. Wh-e-e-e, then a slight calm, but not for long. Time to eat—and gather strength for the next onrush.

The afternoon was a steady blow and on into the night. Sure every one had a good time. Just find one who can say nix. Why all the big blow? Who was it that said "It's an ill wind that blows no good?" This big blow was for the good, and good it is. Natch, it's all for the Park for Cypress. Life is like that isn't it? You work hard for the reward in the end. Our reward for our efforts to make the White Gold Days a success will be the park. So, sing not the praises to I or you or me, but let it stand as the reward all can enjoy for those now and those to come. I am proud I did my little bit, aren't you? (End quote, by Forrest Lowrey.)

If there had been an award for the oldest resident in attendance at the parade and celebration, we can't see how R. R. Ellsworth's father, Eugene, could help but win, since he is 99!

We were going to say something last week about the Gus W. Ehrig family, who recently came from their home in Iowa to stay at Harvey's trailer court, but this week we can voice nothing but praise for the fine way in which Gus took hold and helped with the carnival, both before, during and after. Besides, he bought a subscription to the paper so he wouldn't miss out on any of his adopted home town's news.

The barbecue dinner was made even more enjoyable since we sat at the same table with the W. J. McCoid's, the Paschal's and the Robert Miles' and were privileged to listen to the repartee carried on among them and our brother and his wife, with now and then a passerby the table to join in the merry-making.

Speaking of the barbecue dinner, we thought "Mom" Thompson, from the Pine Cafe, ate her meal with real gusto. How these good cooks love a meal prepared by

And didn't our Forrest "Frosty" Lowrey do a bang-up job on that loud speaker, as official MC of the afternoon and evening It is rumored families in Los Alamitos and Buena Park turned off radios and television sets, because the entertainment from Cypress was better.

We couldn't mention any community enterprise since the VFW and auxiliary have been formed without pointing out that some of their members work the hardest and the longest of all. They are all real "minute-men", and we've heard many of the oldsters, who have carried the load through the years, express gratitude and appreciation for this attitude on the part of the newcomers.

Mrs. Berniece Fay, of North Long Beach, who operated that unfailing source of excitement and pleasure for the small fry—the airplane ride—stated that the carnival was extra good for a small town, and that she enjoyed the best business so far this year.

In the miscellaneous section, Colleen Philipps was the largest entry; best costumed, Terry Lee Jordan; best costume in the theme, Susan Nolan; smallest entry, Jerry Slocum; most unique costume, Jerry Hambley; best roosters, Joan Arbiso and Miles Gibbs; best float, Joan Cunningham; best decorated bicycles, first, Emma Rodriquez, second Robert Bouse and third, Judy and Kenneth Maas. Each child in the parade was given a candy bar and those with pets were given a can of dog food. Miss Elizabeth Dickerson, principal of the Cypress school, judged this division.

Following the parade, the fast-growing crowd gathered in the field south of the schoolgrounds, where awards were made and a horse show was presented. With C. L. Smith acting as master of ceremonies, the first presentation, by the Orange county mounted square dancers, who performed two quadrilles on horseback, was a sure-fire hit. This was followed by trick riding and acrobatics, presented by "Chuck" Brown, "Red" Hovius and Charlie LaMont, of Angeles Rancho in Cypress and Sylvester Brown and "Ray" Beach, girl rider, from Anaheim, before an appreciative audience.

PARK FUND GROWS AS WHITE GOLD DAY ENDS

When the big parade swung into view Saturday morning to begin the festivities for the second annual White Gold Day in Cypress, a project planned to raise money to build a recreation park for the children of the community, the excitement among spectators ran high. In keeping with the theme, "white gold," or milk, it was only proper that a dairy carry off the sweepstakes award. This was won by the two Frank Cardoza's, dairymen, who entered a float together.

First award in the best commercial entries went to Jake Van Dyke's dairy, second to M & H market, and third to Cypress Hardware. First among the organizations was Cypress community club, second, Lucky Leaf 4-H club and third, Norwalk Boy Scouts, with the Cypress volunteer fire department receiving honorable mention. Best comic entry was the Bellflower blacksmith's with Anaheim chamber of commerce trolley second and Hunt's Foods, Inc., third.

The entry winning first place in the best decorated car division was the Cypress VFW, second to Buena Park chamber of commerce and third to Cypress Enterprise. Most colorful and best drilled marching unit was Sybil Ring's majorettes, first, and Santa Ana VFW post drum and bugle corps, second. Acting as judges were Dan T. Mackay, the Reverend Eric Jorden and the Reverend Arthur King.

From the several riding clubs in the parade, Dr. F. O. Brasch, of Norwalk, won first place in men's silver singles and George Veta, Jr., second; Miss Emily Specht, first in women's silver singles; Bob Waldrip, Lyndon Smith and Bud Harm of Santa Ana, men's western; a team known as Billy, Sharon and Eleanor, junior division, and Anaheim riding club, Artesia Carefree riders, and Tri-City Wranglers riding clubs, among the groups. Other judges were C. L. Smith, F. C. Ferreirra and R. R. Ellsworth.

Heading the parade as grand marshall was Sheriff Jim Musick, and appearing beautiful and regal on a specially constructed "royal" float was Queen Delores Cardin, dressed in shimmering white satin, and her two attendants, runners-up in the popularity contest, Nancy Allen and Marie DeGennaro.

Judging of the pets which made up the third division of the parade was done at nine o'clock. Among the dogs, the most beautiful was the St. Bernard of Pat and Sam Lindeboom; the largest, a bull mastiff puppy of Ivey and Joe Giles; the smallest dog, a black Chihuahua dog of Jacqueline Wilson. Judging of the dog entries was done by Worth C. Miller.

Sylvia Rule had the fluffiest cat; Rosalie Miller's cat had the longest whiskers; the largest cat belonged to Bill Patterson; the smallest cat was entered by Ralph Culp; the blackest cat was owned by Bobby Wilson; best pair of Manx cats, Judy Stanby and Suzanne Lukens had the best costumed cat, Mrs. Otho Switzer was the judge.

School Opens Monday Morning Following Delay

Cypress school will open Monday morning and all children should plan to attend the first day which will be dismissed shortly before noon. For the benefit of newcomers, there will be several eighth grade girls to serve as guides to the new buildings and direct them to the different class rooms.

This year there will be no special bus for the kindergartners, which will have both a morning and afternoon session. The first one will be in session from 9 o'clock until 11:30 and will include those children living on the north side of Lincoln and west of Walker street. The afternoon class will take up at 12:30 o'clock and dismiss at 3 o'clock and will include the children east of Walker and south of Lincoln. Mrs. Clarissa Higgins will be the teacher for both sessions.

The bus route may have to be changed, because of the distribution of the population and notices will be sent home on Tuesday by the children regarding definite bus schedules. Mothers of small children are urged to stay with them at the bus stops until the regular routes can be established.

New Business Exchanges Baby Goods Here

The Hancock Service Station west of town next to Grace Wiley's zoo, is taking on a new appearance under the management of Carl S. Harvey, and A. J. Cormier, the owner of the property. Their advertisement and special introductory offer appears elsewhere in this issue.

All of the activities of the service station and garage will be transferred to the smaller building, where Hancock products will be sold and also where the firm will act as agent for the complete line of Firestone accessories. The larger room is being transformed into store space for a "Baby Exchange", to be operated by Mrs. Harvey and Mrs. Cormier, the wives of the two partners.

This idea is new in Cypress, and will comprise a headquarters for used articles of baby clothing or furniture which may be brought to the "Exchange", a price set on it by the individual, and where it may be purchased by a buyer who has a use for it. All goods will be thoroughly sterilized or conditioned for re-sale. The proprietors also expect to stock standard items of baby goods which are not exchangeable, but for which there is always a need.

Considerable work has been done to ready the buildings for use, and the business site presents a very attractive appearance.

Permits To Build Six Stores Obtained

Wednesday afternoon, Edward T. Behren obtained permits at Santa Ana for six new stores, to front Lincoln avenue at Miller road, and work has begun on their construction.

Three of the store spaces are already rented in a stucco building, which, when completed will be 130 feet wide and 40 feet in depth, boasting large windows to display merchandise.

Also nearing completion is the new service station on the corner of Lincoln avenue and Miller road, which will be opened at an early date under the management of W. E. Beck.

Phoenix Ramblers National Champs For Second Year

Although the Buena Park Lynx did not make the national playoffs this year many local people who have been following the tournament at Portland this week will be interested to learn that the Phoenix Ramblers won the play off game from Portland Monday night 3 to 0. It was the fifth straight win for Amy Peralta, Phoenix twirler, and the second straight game in which the Ramblers blanked the Florists, the semi-final game score being 2 to 0.

VFW Auxiliary Plans October Ceremony

At a meeting of the VFW auxiliary in the school house on Monday night plans were made for the formal institution of the unit. The date had previously been set for Sunday, October 10, but since that is the date for "hospital day south," when all posts and auxiliaries in the southern area picnic with the veterans at Sawtelle, the date was changed to October third at two o'clock in the school auditorium. Representatives from a number of neighboring units are expected to be present and the public is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served following institution ceremonies.

Present at Monday nite's meeting were Opal Walter of Anaheim, Department Chief of Staff, Ruby Jeffrey of Fullerton, 2nd District Chief of Staff, Mrs. Billye Giles, 2nd District president and Hazel Smith of Brownsville, Texas, a guest of Mrs. Giles.

Twenty-nine women have signed as charter members and several more are expected before the institution date. New members signing the roster were Hazei Lutz, Betty Mae Knauss, Arliss Marie Rogers, Annetta Lucas and Zula Harris.

Los Alamitos Set For Big Festival Next Month

This community's first Annual Fall Festival, October 15 - 17, advertised by the committee as FAFF, will have as its center a professional carnival on the west side of Los Alamitos boulevard just north of Florita street, the commitee determined at its second meeting Friday night with the board of directors of the sponsoring Business Association.

The community has been offered 25 per cent of the gross receipts by one carnival concern, Mrs. Grace Johnson, secretary, said, but to date has not settled on any particular carnival operator. A delegation went to Cypress White Gold Day for pointers on successful operation of community festivals.

A pet parade is planned tentatively for the afternoon of October 16 and the event will close with a barbecue dinner and giving away of a calf on the evening of October 17.

Another meeting of the committee and board was held Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Johnson.

Sheriff's Office Checks On Corn Being Picked

Sheriff's officers today tried to untangle a puzzle of who told whom to pick what corn where.

Two young men living at Buena Park were interrupted from a busy corn-picking job at the patch owned by Morris Gugliemo of 5402 Orangethorpe avenue and they said that they had permission to pick corn in the field at Walker street and Orangethorpe avenue.

Guglielmo insisted that he had not seen the boys before, and did not know them, and certainly had not given them permission to do any picking.

They told sheriff's men that a roadside stand operator sent them to the field to pick the corn, informing them that it was his field.

Apparently somebody got the wrong directions, officers opined, although they held the youths temporarily or investigation of possible petty theft.

MAN SWIMS IN TO GET BOAT HELP

With no other means to notify the Coast Guard that the boat on which he was a passenger was grounded on a sand bar at the entrance of Alamitos Bay, Don Hurlbut swam ashore Monday night to get to a telephone.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Owen of 6119 La Palma Ave., Buena Park, waited aboard the boat, the 26-footer Connie, until a Coast Guard patrol vessel took it in tow and conducted it to Twenty-second St. landing, San Pedro.

FIGHTING FOR YOU

Safety is hard to advertise," says the New York Times. "Most people think they have it, like common sense. Many hazards become contemptible because they are as familiar as the loose wire in the kitchen . . Who sees the build-up of static electricity in the dress you clean with gasoline? Even the shock of a big hotel fire wears off and false security exerts its age-old drug."

That is why fire prevention work must never slow down—and why every medium of communication must constantly be employed to keep the menace of fire before the American people. Today fire is costing us some $700,000,000 a year in direct waste alone—and the indirect waste is two to three times as great. Worse still, it is taking more than 10,000 lives. And fire is the cause of about one-fourth of all accidental deaths to children.

According to the best authorities, about 90 per cent of all fires are preventable. They are the product of human carelessness, ignorance or forgetfulness. That goes for the run-down heating plant which sets a home afire—or for the cigarette butt thrown from a car which leads to the ravage of millions of acres of fine timber and the destruction of wild life. The fire which cannot be prevented is rare indeed.

The war against fire is being fought for you—and for everyone else.

WHAT IS AN EDITORIAL?

By James S. Polk, Editor
Louisville Courier-Journal

The newspaper editorial is a true component of our way of life. Seldom encountered elsewhere, it justly can be labeled "Made in USA". It is peculiarly an utterance of the American tongue—an expression of the American creed

The editor's obligation is to write fair, honest, informative and stimulating editorials. But newspaper readers have an obligation too, as participating American citizens. They must read them. In some papers this is a pleasure, in others a bore

It is true that editorial pages have seductive competitors. But an intelligent and imaginative editor still can hold his own. You, the reader, can compel him to do a better job, and it is important to you that he does. Editorial guidance still is essential to a healthy, informed development of the national mind—perhaps more essential than ever.

And quite apart from what it says in all its moods, the editorial has another significance, fully as important.

The editorial page is your guarantee that there are other pages, different in character. It is symbol of the democratic dream

The editor's views, clearly identified as such, should be your assurance against having to watch for editorial views hidden in news stories.

A newspaper which colors and distorts its news stultifies and nullifies its editorial page and its news columns, as well. It is the reader's responsibility to hold editors to this distinction, to keep a free press free.

Labor disgraces no man; unfortunately you occasionally find men who disgrace labor. — Ulysses S. Grant, Speech at Arbitration Union, Birmingham, England.

TRAVELOGUE

We had been in Yellowstone two days and had not tasted fish as yet. Bruce and I decided that we would have fish on the third day. Some few were catching fish but for the most part people just fished and hoped for better luck the next day. It was the spawning season and the fish were not biting. Well, we got our fishing gear all ready and, of course, the women tagged along. We went up the lake a bit to a rocky shore where we could see the big fellows playing around. We fed them worms, tried lures, spinners, everything we had in stock. Those fish just paid no attention to anything we threw at them. Finally Bruce put on a three-barbed hook and when a big fellow strolled across Bruce gave a mighty jerk and sank the barbs into the fish's manly chest, if a fish has a chest.

Gosh, you might have thought that Bruce had hooked a whale. That fish cut the water into a foam but with my help we landed it in the top of a fallen tree. After that we both put on three-barbed hooks but we could not snag any more. We finally gave up and put our gear into the car and sought other waters. We came to Lewis lake, a very beautiful lake and one that has many fish. We saw a few fishermen at the upper end of the lake but we went to the lower end. Gee, the water looked fine from our vantage point in the trees far above the lake. There was a winding trail down to the water and so down we went.

The water was clear and beautiful. I stepped out on a little pebbly bar and tossed out my hook and that was the last I saw of my hook or line, I just had to feel for it for out of somewhere came the mosquitoes, not in tens, not in hundreds but in thousands and millions. There is little joy in fishing if you cannot see what you are doing and I could not see and bsides I was rapidly becoming deblooded. I attempted to see if I had any bait on the hook but there were twenty-two billion mosquitoes between me and the hook and did you ever try to see through that many mosquitoes?

I called for Bruce but Bruce had long ago left the lake to the mosquitoes. I stumbled upward among the trees and brush, the rocks and fallen logs. I bruised my shins, I cut my face, I skinned my knuckles and finally I began to emerge from that sea of mosquitoes. About one hundred and twenty-five thousand of those mosquitoes followed me into the car. But we opened the windows and went down the road so fast that the wind blew the pests out. We came to a meadow and nice little stream flowing through. I told the others that I would do a little scouting. I took my rod and sneaked upon that stream and tossed the hook in and up came twenty billion strong with wings howling and daggers poised but believe you me, for a fat man, I was fast!

We went on down to the Lewis river which flows through a well-ventilated canyon. I selected a likely spot and sent my Colorado spinner out into fast water. It drifted down and made a short arch and just as I started to draw it in, bingo,—I knew I had found the right spot. There were not many but enough to make fishing exciting. That night we really had a fish fry.

Just as we pulled into camp that evening our pet bear was making the rounds again. He saw our tents were occupied but he visited a large tent a few camps away and finding no one home opened a doorway down the wall of the tent with one mighty sweep of his right paw. Bruce ran toward him and he leinsurely moved away without doing any further damage. While I was fishing on the river two cow elks came very near and looked me over. I don't mind the elk and the deer and even a moose but they can keep all the bear in some place far away. I have never lost any bear nor do I want to meet any.

—Sargum Sprout.

Last Rites For Frank H. Newton

Last rites were held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the chapel of the Smith and Tuthill mortuary in Santa Ana for Frank Hawkins Newton, 70, who died Friday in his home at 8022 Starr street, Rev. Gerald Bush was officiating clergyman. Cremation followed in Melrose Abbey.

Mr. Hawkins, a native of Ennis, Texas, came to California 48 years ago and has lived in Stanton for the past 20 years. He was a retired oil worker and a member of the Woodman of the World.

Survivors include the widow, Ruth Elizabeth; four daughters, Mrs. Lorene Hohhman of Kelso, Washington, Mrs. Leta B. Heatwole of Richmond, Miss Frankie M. Newton Seattle, Washington and Mrs. Sybil F. Roberts of Bellflower; three sons, Allie E. Newton of Silverado, Ray Newton of San Bernardino and Robert L. Newton of Bellflower; a brother, Rudd Newton of Stockton and a sister, Mrs. N. Coughlan of Ennis, Texas.

NUGGETS

Frank Noe and T. J. Boyd and Jake Van Dyke were so pleased with the help and cooperation they received from individuals helping with Cypress' big event of the year that they wanted to sacrifice their advertising space to tell one and all "thank you." So, here it is here—as big as life and twice as heart-felt—THANK YOU.

The biggest kick of the whole day was watching judge and jailer Andy Castro "lock 'em, (except when we were "it") and it is cause to wonder how people would really react under official circumstances. If anybody missed going to the "klink", it certainly wasn't the faults of Thelma Essex and Evie Junker, official deputies, and their aids. And on what counts! They must have sat up for nights thinking up those charges for arrests!

Jerry Kelley, chairman of the popularity contest for queen, was so enthusiastic after the winner was announced that he was all for acknowledging in the issue preceding the big doings how grateful he was for the fine cooperation and willingness to work he received from the contestants and all those connected with the contest. He especially wanted honorable mention for Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Dye, his assistants, who so ably helped with the detailed work of the committee. And wasn't that float the queen rode on in the parade simply bee-uti-ful? And we challenge any town to produce a lovelier set of feminine royalty than we had right here.

The editorial "we" humbly thanks ye judges for our third prize award. Maybe an "A" for effort, but a rating we did not expect. We wished there had been a prize for every float, they were all so good.

We shouldn't even mention it, and encourage any further pranks among "the boys" around town, but didn't you-all think it was kinda' funny when they worried the city fathers slightly by moving the so-called 'jail" a few days before it was to be used to an unannounced location, and then let those who found it discover the following message, "Kilroy's house movers were here?"

And the way we heerd it, "there are two Frank Cardoza's, and they were each responsible and worked hard and long to make the interesting float which won the sweepstakes award! We salute Frank and Frank and say "well done."

And how do you like that? We couldn't even win a box of candy or a prize on the bingo table, and Bessie McCoy takes home the beautiful mix-master and our sister-in-law gets the lovely end table. Oh well, there' always another year.

James Bryant, who did that magnificent job planning for and organizing the parade, is a very self- effacing gent and wishes all the credit to go to the participants and those who generously gave of their time and efforts to assist him both before and during the event. And did you know we had so many handsome, bona-fide policemen? No, Day, we recognized you under that black paint, and couldn't figure out whether you were keeping law and order, or disorder.

The gypsy fortune teller at the carnival had all the ear-marks of a true Romany, but we thought her door-keeper assistant looked very much like he was Iowa-bred. We think we were sabotaged!

And did you see "Queen"' Delores decked out in the complete fall ensemble — first prize for winning the popularity contest? We never did hear how much was netted from a Queenly kiss at $5 per?

One of the most difficult jobs of White Gold Day before, during and after, is probably the least mentioned and an "unsung hero" does all of the work. She is Mrs. Pauline Flynn, who must keep account of all monies which come into and go out of the recreation park fund — and difficult as the job is during the year, along about this time she suffers from writer's cramp and dreams of bills and checkbooks.

So look in the window at Doerr's Sundries, and maybe you'll see yourself there in the pictures as others see you and live again Saturday, September 18, 1948, and Cypress' White Gold Day. Then fold up those blue jeans and gingham dresses until another year — and dream!

Baptist Church Members Outline Year's Study Plan

The congregation of the Baptist church is studying work and methods in preparation for a more extended Sunday School program for the ensuing year.

The Sunday school work will be divided into five departments beginning the first Sunday in October. These departments will meet and work separately giving each age group the full Sunday school period of fellowship unto themselves. This makes a much more interesting program for the people of all ages.

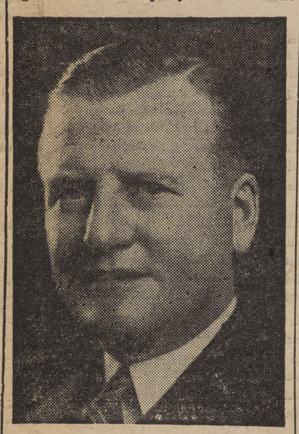

The Reverend Arthur King, pastor, will teach the adult and young people's department; Mrs. Thad Harroun will take charge of the intermediate and junior work; the biginners primary and nursery department will be in charge of Mrs. King who states that the nursery class consists of children from one to three years of age.

The Reverend King extends a cordial welcome to everyone to attend the classes and learn about the plans and methods of the Baptists for improving their services.

The new church building is nearing completion and services have been held there since July. Another building comparable to the one now in use is being planned for the near future.

Barker Bros. To Open New Store

Neil Petree, President of Barker Bros., yesterday announced the selection of Roy Singleton as Manager of the Company's new Santa

Neil Petree

Ana store which is being opened on October 1.

As a preliminary to the opening, Barker Bros., will hold a luncheon Monday, for more than 100 business and civic leaders of Santa Ana.

At the luncheon, to be held in the Masonic Temple building in Santa Ana, Petree will reveal final plans for the formal opening ceremonies.

Mel Faget, president of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, will serve as chairman of the meeting and will preside over the luncheon.

Singleton, the new manager, was formerly manager of the Firm's Alhambra store and just recently, assistant manager of the Long Beach store. He has been with Barker Bros., for the past twenty-two years.

The new Santa Ana store will carry a stock of living-room, bedroom, and dining-room furniture especially selected for this locality. The majority of the stock is exclusive with Barker Bros., and includes furniture made in the company's own factory for Southern California homes.

Mrs. Bob Stearns Hostess Monday

The hospitality of Mrs. Bob Stearns was enjoyed by members of the Young Women's Missionary society when they met in her home on Monday night for their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Joe Ferguson served as co-hostess with Mrs. Stearns.

During the business meeting it was voted to hold their next month's meeting at Casa Robles a home for retired missionaries supported by the Church of the Nazarene. Taking covered dishes which will be shared with the residents of the home at noon, the group will leave the church at 9:30 a.m. The missionaries will give interesting experiences while they were in the missionary field and the group will be taken on a tour of inspection of the cottages.

The date of the meeting night has been changed from the first Monday evening in each month to the first Tuesday. The meeting night this month was postponed because of the revival meetings held that week. Mrs. Oscar Kelley was elected box chairman to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Curt Tartar who has moved away. Mrs. L. DeLucca was welcomed as a new member.

Devotionals were led by Mrs. Stearns and Mrs. Eric Jorden was in charge of the study period which finished the text book of the group "We Can If We Will."

Refreshments of cake and punch were served by the hostess duo to Mesdames M. Hart of Artesia; Norville Chapman, Eric Jorden, Charles Lemerville, Donald DeWitt, Edward Riddle, J. C. Napier, Toad Wolford, Oscar Kelley, Hal Shirley L. DeLucca B. Moore and Miss Etta Jean Bodkins.

Field Services Organized For Agriculture Dept.

Final organization and assignment of functions for the Production and Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have just been officially designated and released by Charles F. Brannon, Secretary of Agriculture, according to the Orange County Office of the U. S.D.A.

The organization of this agency follows the pattern and procedure established by the former secretary of agriculture, except for changes necessitated by the granting of a charter to the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) by the last congress.

The activities assigned to this agency, commonly referred to as PMA, are grouped under four headings: Production Programs; Marketing and Distribution Programs; Price Support and Supply Programs; Discharging the functions and duties requested under the regulations of the Commodity Credit Corporation. All these activities are to be carried out though commodity, functional and staff bureaus, which are to be known as Branches.

The agricultural conservation offices will constitute the county officers for the local administration of programs through the Farm Service Branch, of which these offices are a part. The Orange County office is located at 622 North Main Street, Santa Ana, as in the past.

OPERATED BY VETERANS

The Picture Sets The Scene

The beautiful colorings in the picture over the mantel set the scene for this attractive one-room apartment. The chalk white frame is in interesting contrast to the dark green walls. The convertible love seats open up for sleeping space.

Anyone trying to get the best effects from small quarters will find that attractive, colorful pictures will provide a focal point to make the most of every available bit of space.

REDDY KILOWATT SAYS...

Four hundred and thirty million dollars worth of powerhouses, towers, wires, substations and equipment of all kinds is back of your electric switches. That's a lot of money— the savings of many thousands of Edison stockholders.

And it's doing a big job— manufacturing electricity and delivering it right to your finger tips, twenty-four hours a day.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA EDISON COMPANY

LOCALS

Last Thursday evening, two members of Buena Park's "Black eagle motorcycle club", who live in Cypress, had the misfortune to be involved in a crash. Their machines both struck the same car, injuring them seriously. It was necessary to take several stitches in the side of "Red" Dyer's face where the skin was torn, and "Spike" Malone suffered two broken legs and loss of blood, making a transfusion necessary. Mrs. Malone, riding with her husband, was also scratched and bruised and badly shaken up.

Unless there is a special request from an unexpected source, it is probable that the organization known as the "West Orange county safety council" which operated last year under the leadership of S. V. "Jack" Fullerton, and Mrs. Fullerton and Mrs. G. T. Alleman, will be disbanded. Mrs. Alleman, secretary of the local unit, is receiving literature regularly, but no word has been received locally or from the towns of Los Alamitos, Stanton and Buena Park that there are interested members who wish to continue the meetings.

Noble grands and vice-grands from every lodge in the 26th district were represented last Friday evening when members of Artesia Rebekah lodge No. 285 were hostesses at a courtesy night affair. Members presented a short play entitled "A day at Rebekah lodge clinic." Taking part were Myrl Appleby, Vera Frietag, Lura Coffman, Evalene Junker, Vickie Milbourn and Ernestine Adams. At the next meeting, a good fellowship theme will be carried out, with Mrs. Junker, district good fellowship chairman, as hostess.

The winner of the white chenille bedspread recently displayed in the window of the Essex variety store by the local Veterans of Foreign Wars organization was announced at a drawing held Tuesday evening to be Ray Adkinson, 14591 Guther street, in Santa Ana. He was a former Cypress resident connected with the schools here.

Mrs. H. E. Ellsworth was stricken suddenly last Sunday and rushed to the county hospital at Orange. Several blood transfusions were necessary and it is reported that her condition is improved.

The new sign on the Cypress volunteer fire station has been placed and adds further to the attractiveness of the recently completed building.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brown, former residents of Cypress for many years, telling of their purchase of a home in Roseburg, Oregon, to be near their son, Ray, who is a member of the faculty at the Roseburg High school.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hazlett and family at 8351 south Moody street, and Mrs. Virginia Quast, is the latter's daughter, Mrs. Robert Hiatt and her daughter Patty, from El Paso, Texas. Tech/Sgt. Robert Hiatt, a member of the army air force, is attending a special school at Muroc field and spends any time on leave from duty with his family here.

Mrs. George Browning's parents from Harlan, Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Havick, are visiting in Cypress for a few days, having accompanied small Sandra back to her home after a summer's vacation on the farm. At this rate, "Sandy" will soon earn her "wings", since both legs of the journey were made by air.

John Julian flew down from the Naval Air station at Alameda to which he has been transferred, to spend several days last week with his wife and young son, Michael The Julians have rented their home at 5562 Vonnie Lane to Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Steffen and Mrs. Julian and Michael will stay with relatives in San Diego until a place can be found for them in Alameda.

Birthdays Go Double For Cousins Here

Two cousins, Shirley Miser and Jayne Chapman, are the same age with their birth dates on the same day. Each year the mothers, Mrs. Glen Miser and Mrs. Norville Chapman, plan a joint celebration. On alternate years they buy the two girls identical dresses and entertain with a family dinner. This year, Mrs. Miser bought the dresses and Mrs. Chapman served the dinner.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Miser and Shirley present were Ralph Miser, Mrs. Sarah Chapman, Howard Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. Chapman and Jayne.

Jayne was hostess on Friday afternoon to a group of friends who had been invited by her mother to help her celebrate her birthday anniversary. Party activities took place out of doors at the Chapman home on Grace street.

Refreshments were served at a long table in the arbor which was attractively decorated in rainbow colors. Places were marked with pretty pink nut cups and the pink decorated cake was served with ice cream, cookies, candy and nuts and punch.

DINNER HONORS SPECIAL GUESTS AT MRS. SARAH MILLER'S

Mrs. Sarah Miller entertained with a dinner last Thursday evening in her home, honoring Durward Miller and Robert Opsal, policemen of Long Beach, as a gesture of appreciation for their having acted as blood donors in her behalf when she was a patient recently in Fullerton hospital suffering with anemia, and from which condition she is recovering nicely.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Durward Miller and small son, David of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Opsal, of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Miller and daughter, Ruthie, of Buena Park; Roy Pike, Mr. and Mrs. George Worthington, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Miller, of Cypress.

FAMILY DINNER HONORS BIRTHDAY

The eighteenth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Harold Weaver was observed recently by a family gathering at Anaheim City park, planned by her mother, Mrs. Barney Booher. Present at the dinner toward which each contributed, were the husband of the celebrant, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Allen and children, Miss Nancy, Kenny and Mary Lee, Lawrence Hall and children, Larry Joe and Carol Joan, Miss Margaret Booher, Charles Lamar and Mrs. Booher.

Following dinner, Mrs. Booher made the surprise announcement of the engagment of her daughter Margaret and Charles Lamar of Houston, Texas. No definie date was announced.

Miss Booher attended Anaheim High school and has been employed as a nurse's aid at St. Joseph's hospital for the past three years. Lamar is a Marine stationed at El Toro.

Gives Luncheon For Co-Workers

Mrs. Joe Ferguson, superintendent of the primary department of the Nazarene Sunday school, entertained the teachers in her department at luncheon on a recent afternoon in her home on Crescent avenue.

The group talked over the plans for the improvement of the department and set the goal of 100 in attendance regularly at Sunday school in the primary department.

At the luncheon were Mrs. Chrales Martin, Mrs. J. C. Napier, Mrs. Oscar Kelley, Mrs. Eric Jorden and Mrs. Lloyd Wallace.

Chief Bos'n J. E. Smith, who has been in the Naval hospital in Bremmerton, Washington, for the past two months, is enjoying a short leave with his family before shipping out again on September 27 on the oil tanker USS Caliente. Smith has one more year in the service before his retirement.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mestor have had as their recent guests, their uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kimberly of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Carmack of Akron, Ohio. During their visit, they enjoyed dinner and the attractions of Knott's Berry farm.

It took two years and nine months, but finally a new Ford became the property of the E. L. Robinson's of the Robinson garage.

FOUR - YEAR - OLD MICHAEL JULIAN GIVEN PARTY

Festivities in the John H. Julian home at 5562 Vonnie Lane on Thursday afternoon were held in honor of the fourth birthday anniversary of the son of the household, Michael. Although he had attended many parties, this was Michael's very first party of his own and excitement ran high, especially at gift opening time which preceded the refreshment interval.

The table at which the children gathered to eat ice cream, and watch the little celebrant blow out the four candles on his decorated birthday cake inscribed with "Happy Birthday Mike", was centered with the anniversary cake and each place had a popper containing gay colored paper hats, a balloon and a clown nut cup. Pictures were taken of the children during the afternoon. Mrs. Robert Carl assisted Mrs. Julian in serving the little guests.

Helping Michael celebrate his birthday were Bruce Quarry, Jr., James and Michael O'Leary, Ronnie and Kenneth Lossett, Jerry Wood and Maurice Turpin.

Several mothers were also present and included Mrs. Bruce Quarry, Mrs. Harvey Wood, and Mrs. Paul Lossett.

BOY SUFFERS IN FALL FROM TRACTOR

Little Irwin Hara, three-year-old nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kamanomi of Crescent avenue near Western, with whom he was visiting, sustained critical injuries yesterday morning when he fell from a tractor while riding with his uncle. While the tractor did not run over the boy, tire marks found on his face and neck indicated it had stopped just in time. He was rushed to the Fullerton General hospital, where doctors said he had a severe concussion and perhaps internal injuries.

Shower For Mrs. Rosser Williams

Mrs. Rosser Williams was honored with an anticipation shower on Thursday at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Williams on Magnolia street.

Mrs. Bill Robins of Cypress was the hostess.

Prizes in the games were won by Miss Mary Ann Hunt and Mrs. Mildred Lundhigh of Long Beach.

Individual squares of cake decorated with rosebuds were served with pineapple frappe. The napkins were gay with storks flying around.

Those present were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Corey Wiens of Santa Ana, Mrs. Lundhigh and Mrs. Lowell Chamberlen of Long Beach, Mrs. John Clark of Fullerton, Mrs. Vernice Hill of Anaheim, Mrs. Merrill Hunt and Miss Mary Ann Hunt of Lakewood, Mrs. Frank Vessel of Los Alamitos, Mrs. Herbert Damron, Mrs. Clarence Norland, Mrs. Elmer McWilliams, Mrs. Robert Fogg, Mrs. Pat Arnold and Mrs. Robert Hoyt of Cypress; the honoree, Mrs. Rosser Williams; the hostess, Mrs. Bill Robins, and Mrs. Dan Williams.

A share-a-dish luncheon was served in the out-of-door living room at the Otho Switzer home one day last week when Mrs. Switzer entertained 23 members of Circle Three of the WSCS of the Artesia Methodist church. The annual bazaar of the WSCS will take place on November 18 and each circle vies with the other to bring in the most finished articles for the needlework booth. The day was passed in sewing on articles for the bazaar.

KORN HUSKERS 4-H GROUP HONORS WITH SOCIAL MEET

Fellow members of the Korn Huskers, 4-H club group, were the guests of Stephen Coffman at his recent 14th birthday anniversary party which took the form of a hamburger fry in Hillcrest park in Fullerton. Since the date was only a few days previous to the 4-H club meeting, the two were combined with only a minimum of business transacted. The affair had been planned by Stephen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Coffman.

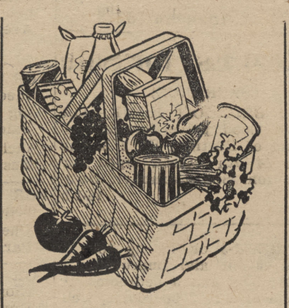

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Korn, the leaders, assisted in cooking and serving the meal. Attending, in addition to those previously mentioned were Ronnie and Carlene Korn, Carl Dillon, Eugene Gazelle, Steve Stewart, Lowell Heitman, Peggy Mills, Barbara and Linda Galloway.

The John Haslers had as their guests on Thursday, two former school mates of Mrs. Hasler whom she has not seen for many years, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Ray and family of Kansas City, Missouri. Following dinner, the guests were taken on a drive through Irvine park and other scenic spots.

At the present time, they have as their house guest, a cousin, Mrs. Florence Hanson of Salt Lake City, Utah.

CAN YOU RECOGNIZE A GOOD BUY?

If you can, here it is. A four-room house, together with a two-room guest house. Corner lot with 100 foot front. One of the very best locations in town. Both houses built in last two years. If you can pay two-thirds down, let me tell you just how low this property is priced. From party who can prove a good past record of meeting his obligations, I will accept a very low down payment at a price, of course, of something more than the two-thirds down payment. It is essential that I leave Buena Park very soon, so see me at once. Norman H. Parks, northwest corner of Artesia and Darlington. 46-1p

Mrs. Dan Williams Has Surprise Party

The pleasantest sort of surprise was in store for Mrs. Dan Williams last Friday evening when her raughter-in-law Mrs. Roser Williams and her niece, Mrs. Bill Robins of Cypress planned a party in observance of her birthday anniversary. The group, bearing gifts and refreshments, called at the Williams' home on Magnolia Avenue where they spent a social evening. Birthday cake, jello and punch was served at a late hour.

Participating in the surprise were Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Hunt, Miss Mary Ann Hunt and Bruce Hunt, all of Lakewood; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Robins and children, Gary and Leslee, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fogg, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McWilliams, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Damron, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Arnold, Rosser Williams and Dan Williams.

October Features Hallowe'en And Desert Festivals

October 21-23
SAN BERNARDINO COVERED WAGON DAYS

Theme this year is "Days of Gold," and there will be a galaxy of contests of the Old West—turtle and jumping frog races, log-sawing, cap and ball marksmanship with rifles and pistols, a fiddler's competition for old timers. Horse show on the second day, while historical pageant—more than 2½ hours long—parades through the city on last day.

October 28-31
PALM SPRINGS
WESTERN WEEK

This desert oasis and all its residents are decked out in western gear. Program includes square dancing, street dance, plus a gymkana and horse show on the final day.

October 30
ANAHEIM HALLOWE'EN FESTIVAL

Kick-off for this unique celebration is a community breakfast and show in a city park at 7 a.m. attended by 2500 costumed citizens. Kiddies parade in costume at 2 p.m., then at 7 p.m. there is the Grand Parade, for which citizens have been fashioning floats and costumes for months. Citizens wear Hallowe'en costumes in the downtown district all day. Originally designed to curb youthful celebrants, the festival now is a celebration by adults, as well, being staged for the 25th year.

October 30
WHITTIER HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATION

The town dresses in Hallowe'en costumes—even the adults don outlandish garb—and compete in a parade, with awards for the most original costumes. Procession of costumed celebrants marches to Hadley Field for a gala program and fun—without vandalism.

LOCALS

The Doerr's Sundries advertisement boomeranged this week, and "Dr. Stork" isn't kidding about needing a vacation after delivering boy triplets to the George Weigert home, 5561 Saint Anne avenue in Cypress Manor Thursday morning. These babies should really help put Cypress on the map.

Mrs. R. C. Cawthon, and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Murl Jasper attended a family reunion at the home of Miss Judy McKellar in Downey at which 60 family members were present. The home of Miss McKellar, who is the oldest living member of the family, is one of the old landmarks of Downey, part of it having been built in 1860. The grounds are beautifully landscaped.

Friends of Harold O. Boos former principal of the Cypress school for seven years, and who has been operating a drug and variety store in Midway City, will be interested to learn that he has accepted a position as eighth grade teacher at the Laurel school in Los Alamitos.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sutton have returned home from a week spent vacationing at Lake Elsinore. They attended the Pomona fair last Monday.

R. C. Cawthon and his cousin, Ed Marxen, spent last week-end on a deer hunt in the high Sierras but came home without a deer.

Mrs. A. H. Strempel, Mrs. A. E. Arnold and Mrs. R. C. Cawthon made up a party who spent a day in Hollywood attending the "Queen for a Day" show, "Meet the Mrs." and Bob Crosby's "Club 51." They finished up the day by making a tour of Chinatown.

Fulton Lewis, Jr., famed commentator on the American political scene, is to speak in the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles on Monday evening, October 11, it has been announced.

Tickets will be available at all Mutual ticket agencies.

Fund Grows As White Gold Day Ends This Year

The carnival, located on the schoolground, was opened at noon and became the center of attraction for the remainder of the afternoon and evening, with plenty of concessions for young and old. From the platform, located where all could see, announcements were made over the public address system, and the vaudeville show was carried out. A tiny Cypress Miss Millie Irvin delighted her audience in song and dance numbers, followed by a presentation of Hawaiian dances by the students from Val Moore's studio in Anaheim and a program chock-full of talent under the auspices of Miller's variety entertainers.

In the evening, the center of attraction beginning at five o'clock was the big barbecue dinner, with Jake Van Dyke and A. E. "Pat" Arnold "doing the honors". At eight o'clock the festivities were once again centered around the carnival grounds and the platform, where the Nick Harris's and their auctioneer, Bob Faulkner took over to entertain and dispose of the articles which had been donated for sale to swell the sum in the park fund. This, together with the many attractive items found on the bingo table, provided an opportunity for everyone to find something useful and desirable.

In the cake contest, the prize for the best cake in the theme of the celebration was won by Mrs. W. J. McCoid; the prettiest cake, Peggy Flynn, and the one with the most taste appeal was the one baked by Mrs. Robert O'Leary. Judges in this division were Robert Rittenhouse, of the Buena Park bakery and "Bill" Klapper, of Anaheim.

When the winners of the special prizes given away were announced, it was found that W. J. Niles, of Long Beach, could take home the television set. The Universal vacuum cleaner went to Grace Johnson of Los Alamitos, and Ed Kirk, cattle buyer from Clearwater, donated the steer he won back to the park committee and the proceeds from its re-sale also went into the general fund.

Much credit is due all the residents who worked in any way to make this year's "White Gold Day" a success, but recognition should especially go to the general chairman, Richard V. Hathcock and his co-chairmen, Frank Noe and R. M. Flynn, for the tremendous effort which led to the celebration's success. Chairman Hathcock has stated that a full report will be made at a later date, when all of the records have been turned in to the committee and the figures tabulated.

Flies Blamed For Disease

This is "bad fly year."

Polio is prevalent.

Dr. W. Dwight Pierce, curator of entomology at the Los Angeles County Museum believes that these two facts are definitely connected.

Dr. Pierce, who for many years has been studying the part played by insects in spreading disease pointed out yesterday:

There is definite proof that flies transmit disease; stable flies by biting human beings, house flies by carrying the virus.

OFFERS RULES—

Every citizen whose yard contains piles of rotting grass, uncovered garbage cans and the like, or who scatters rubbish in parks, on the beaches or elsewhere, may be providing a place where flies can pick up virus.

He recommends:

Proper house screening.

Clearing up all places that attract flies.
